This is interesting. I'm gonna have one of my trusted colleagues simone foxman or kathy burton call you if thats ok, since they've actually been following this, whereas i havent, and i'm swamped with another story. is that ok? that'll be the best shot at getting a good reporter who knows whats up on this

It was 'anonymously' posted on Harvest because the principals in the fraud have threatened ex-employees with death threats. This scheme has cocaine, hookers, Rolls Royce, Iran, and Texas all rolled up into one.

I would like to keep those responsible for bringing this to the public light safe from the bad guys. When you read through the auditor's letter, you will see that everything is based on fact and in-depth research.

Call me if you would like to discuss 214-347-8052.

This was just posted on Harvest's website a few minutes ago. Bloomberg News should take a look...this is breaking news on a big Texas problem..
