								I'm speaking with Edelman at 7:30am, given this development, would it be an option to have faber tweet this morning? Politico is not going to be out first thing, our other plan is to break with a paid Twitter / Google campaign if a national media outlet is out

								We are in a tough spot here. I have been canvassing the worlds top investors with macro themes and don't want the big investors to lose focus on that idea. I was on tv two days ago on China and don't want to muddy the waters two days later with this. Let's just get brad at Forbes to tweet the link and to write something again. We need everyone on Yahoo finance to go to the linkZ
